The Grand Duchy of Luxembourg

The Grand Duchy of Luxembourg is a small country in Western Europe bordered by Belgium, France and Germany. Luxembourg is a representative democracy in the form of a constitutional monarchy, with Grand Duke Henri the current head of state. The country is the only sovereign grand duchy in the world.

The population of around 564,000 consists of 54% Luxembourg nationals and 46% foreign residents, with the country home to people from more than 170 nationalities. Luxembourg covers an area of 2,586 square kilometres (998 square miles). It is a founding member of NATO and the EU, home to a leading international financial centre, and an advanced economy with the world’s second highest GDP.

Luxembourg is a trilingual country, with Luxembourgish, French and German as its official languages. Most people also speak English but many more languages are routinely spoken in this cultural melting-pot.
